NOW AVAILABLE FOR REVIEW

Tampa, FL, 2019 - Local author Cristi Oramas announces the publication of her first collection of short stories, A Dash of Flash. The collection features tales of love, terror, and betrayal. It retails for $1.00 on Smashwords.com.

"A Room for Two" is a lustful drama that follows the ending of a relationship between [Rick,] an up-and-coming politician and Rose, a local prostitute.

"The Box" follows the story of siblings, Amy and John, who are tasked with clearing out the home of their deceased grandfather. When Amy finds a mysterious box, her curiosity turns to terror in this hair-raising tale.

A heartwarming story to wrap up a book full of emotion, "Prove it" follows a woman on a romantic date set up by her lover.

Cristi Oramas is a game writer and developer from Central Florida whose specializes in creating role-playing video games. She is currently working on her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in creative writing from Full Sail University, where she is also the executive vice president of the school's NSCS chapter.
